CAPA Airline Leader Summit World, 11–12 December 2025

Mr Kevin Bossino, CEO Tourism Product Development, attended the CAPA Airline Leader Summit World held in Lisbon from 11–12 December 2025, the flagship and culminating event of CAPA – Centre for Aviation’s 2025 global summit series. The event convened industry leaders to provide a comprehensive snapshot of the state of global commercial aviation and the key trends shaping its future.

The two-day summit blended CAPA’s independent market intelligence with direct access to industry leaders, featuring an agenda packed with engaging interviews, insightful panel discussions, thought-leading keynotes, presentations and in-depth aviation content. The 2025 event examined the key lessons learned across the industry during the year and outlined the major trends and developments — both within the sector and externally — that are changing the aviation landscape.

“It was a great opportunity make new contacts and to see the concerns, challenges and opportunities across the aviation industry, particularly when viewed through the prism of the emerging scenario within Gibraltar’s aviation sector,” said Kevin Bossino.

Minister Christian Santos, GMD MP, Minister for Equality, Employment, Culture and Tourism, said: “We are in an exciting and unique period for Gibraltar’s aviation sector, particularly in light of the UK/EU treaty and the opportunities this will present having fluid access to the immediate Schengen zone and the possibility of direct flights from airports within the Schengen area.
